FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) assume the proposal would result in no fiscal impact to DESE.

DESE officials assume it is possible that more board members would participate in these training sessions that are provided by state associations. School districts are required to pay for such training costs, therefore, an increase in participation in the training sessions would increase school district costs. The amount of the increase on a statewide basis is not known but is believed to be in excess of $100,000.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

DESCRIPTION

Beginning August 28, 2001, no school board member would file for reelection until the board member has completed orientation and training and has shown proof of the training to the election authority.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
